

Domino tricks

SOMETHING strange will be happening among the clatter of dominoes at Clapham's West Indian Ex-Services Association tonight. 'Friday Social Evening' is the title given to an 8pm event which follows art performance workshops run at the venue by Andrew Mottershead and Rebecca French. The duo hope to keep you guessing as to who are the performers and who are the audience. It costs £8 (including refreshments) to check this out, with bookings on + 020-7366 5695.
